PROHIBITION!

The State and Federal Courts Lock Horns on The Question in Georgia.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 15.—There is a conflict of jurisdiction between the state and federal courts in Georgia, which is likely to assume considerable importance. William M. Miller runs a distillery in DeKalb county which he refused to close in obedience to the prohibition law. He was indicted therefor before Judge Clrak and was on trial when by a writ of habeas corpus he was taken from that court and the case transferred to the federal court. This caused Judge Clark to write a letter to Governor Gordon, in which he denounced the action of Judge Pardee as an infringement on state sovereignty, and asked that the state take some measures to protect itself against such encroachments. He said:

"As I understand it, it is a sin against the very alphabet of the law to convert a writ of habeas corpus into a contrivance for defeating a criminal trial. The state will appear as a party to the case in Judge Pardee's court and claim jurisdiction of the prisoner."

A DRUG HOUSE

Burned at Milwaukee and Damage Approaching $200,000 Inflicted.

MILWAUKEE, April 15.—The wholesale drug store of Charles Baumbacher & Co., burned this morning. The fire originated in the cellar, where two clerks were getting out goods to fill orders. A varnish barrel burst, and instantly there was an explosion and a flash of flame. Rudolph Zobel, one of the clerks, was quickly taken out in a dying condition. His companoin, John Weber was thrown some distance and badly hurt, but will recover. The employes on the upper floors rushed out of the building which was soon a mass of flames. The building cost $22,000; insurance, $15,000; loss on stock, $150,000; insurance, $95,000.

A Hanging Bee.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 15.—Daniel Jewett, the wife murderer, expiated his crime without incident in the jail yard at St. Louis this morning.

GREEN CAUGHT.

Luella Mabbitt's Murderer Captured in an Ohio Town and Held for Removal to Indiana.

LAFAYETTE, April 15.—A telegram received from a town in Ohio brings the intelligence that Amer Green is held there awaiting the coming of the sheriff of Cass county, who is on his way with requisition papers. Green will be brought to Logansport and be tried for the murder of Luella Mabbitt. The telegram from the Ohio sheriff reads as follows: "I have your man; come for him right away." The authorities here were very reticent on the matter, and refused to give any particulars.

Logansport Will Try Elsewhere.

LOGANSPORT, Ayril 15.—The contractors working on the natural gas well at this point have ceased operations and are taking out their machinery. If Logansport is in the gas belt, this well has failed to demonstrate the fact. The company will immediately bore another well four miles south.

WABASH, April 15.—The gas well here reached a depth of 400 feet yesterday after a little over a week of continuous boring. The slate rock was reached at this depth, and the casing is being put in. Rapid progress will now be made, and Trenton rock will probably be reached in a few days. The people of Wabash are determined to have natural gas. A second well is to be sunk as soon as No. 1 is completed.

Opinion of a Leading.

Almost all the diseases that afflict us from infancy to old age have their orgin in a disordered liver. A really good liver medicine is the most important in the whole range of pharmacy. We believe Simmons Liver Regulator to be the best among them all. We pin our faith upon the Regulator, and if we could persuade every reader who is in ill health to buy it, we would willingly vouch for the benefit each would receive. —Ed. Cincinnati Gazette.

The Portuguese Islands.

KEY WEST, Fla., April 15.—While the United States steamer Yantic was at Hayti Commander Green forbade the British from seizing the Portuguese islands, under the Monroe doctrine, which the United States will enforce on interfering nations.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Following are the weather indications:

Indiana, fair weather; slightly cooler.

CASUALTIES!

A Farmer, His Wife and Child Hurt in a Runaway—An Old Man Run Down.

A team of horses driven by a farmer on South Lafayette street, near school house No. 6, ran away this morning and threw the driver, his wife and two children violently out of the wagon. One of the children, a girl, had an arm broken, while the farmer and his wife were badly hurt. Their names could not be learned from Professor Methley, who came in with the news.

This afternoon Mr. John Woodworth, of Lillie street, was run over by a horse and buggy at the corner of Berry and Clinton streets. Mr. Woodworth is very feeble, being seventy years of age. He was cut about the head and otherwise bruised. The driver of the vehicle never stopped to see how badly the old man was injured, and no one knows his name.

A $2,000 Monte Game.

HUNTINGTON, April 15.—Wednesday morning Solmon Lewis, one of the earliest settlers of this county, and a prominent Dunkard, engaged in a three card monte game with three slick and genteel appearing individuals, and lost $2.000 in the operation. Two men drove out to his farm and closed a bargain for the purchase of it, when the third came up and presented the game, letting Lewis win. He was soon persuaded that it would be a pious act to beat the trickster out of his money, and hurrying to the bank he procured the amount, and his short experience cost him all of it.

One of the three sharpers was Ed Kirby, of Logansport, who has been in jail a score of times for working the soap racket. Kirby stayed at Marion last night but left by the overland route on hearing there was a warrant out for his arrest.

Indianapolis' Industries Paralyzed.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 15.—The interstate commerce law is having a disastrous effect upon the manufacturing interests of Indianapolis. The local rates give such great advantages to manufacturers of neighboring cities that in the purchase of raw materials they can buy within twenty miles of Indianapolis and reach the eastern markets at from three to 20 cents less per 100 pounds. The board of trade has appointed a committee to see if any relief from the ruinous discrimination in rates can be had. In the meantime manufacturers have reduced their operations, and all millers are running at less than one-third their capacity.

Bobbing the Toledo Blade.

TOLEDO, Ohio, April 15.—Edward W. Cody, night distributing clerk in the postoffice, was arrested by Deputy U. S. Marshal Breed for robbing the mails. The only letters he extracted were those addressed to the Blade newspaper. He was caught by means of decoy letters. The Blade first noticed the loss last November, and estimates the stealings since then at between $3,000 and $4,000.

Louisville News.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 15.—It was discovered this morning that the New Albany closed pouch which left the Louisville postoffice at 6:40 last evening was robbed at the Jeffersonville, Madison & Indianapolis depot last night. The pouch was found on the platform cut open and rifled of its contents. The extent of the loss is unknown.

King William Serenaded.

AMSTERDAM, April 15.—Forty-five hundred students, last night serenaded King William and the royal family, who acknowledged the tribute from a palace window.

THE revised census of live stock from the beginning of 1877 shows that we have in the United States and Territories 12,496,774 horses, valued at $901,685,755, an average of $72.15 each; mules, 2,117,141, valued at $167,057,538, averaging $78.91. Of milch cows we have 14,522,083, worth $378,789,589, an average of $26.08 each. Of oxen and other cattle there are 33,511,750, of a value of $633,337,926, or worth $19.78 each, a total of 48,033,833 head, worth $1,042,927,515. Of sheep there are 44,759,314, worth $89,872,839, or $2.01 each. Hogs foot up 44,612,839 head, valued at $200,034,291, or $4.48 each. The sum total of the live stock of the country may therefore be estimated at a gross value of $2,40,1586,938 for everything, old and young. An interesting fact in this connection is the low average value of all the animals enumerated as compared with the value of those well-bred.

LOCAL NEWS.

Charles Tritschler has resigned as travelling agent of Christ Wenninghoff's cigar factory, and George Wieman will take his place.

The Angola Herald says: "Dr. H. D. Wood, of this place, has been elected professor of the chair of abdominal surgery in the Fort Wayne college of medicine."

Mr. B. F. Tolan was yesterday appointed architect of the Whitley county court house, and his plans were adopted by the board. It was quite a compliment to a good architect.

Mr. O. L. Ballou, of Lagrange, is at Washington. It is said he goes to see whether the president will permit Postmaster Frank Snyder to abuse Ballou and other democrats after-a-fashion, as he is wont to do in his newspaper, the Democrat.

Editor J. B. Stoll replies to Superintendent P. S. O'Rourke's caustic criticism of Congressman Randall, and adds that circumstances may bring Mr. O'Rourke face to face with the distinguished Pennsylvanian, who, in Mr. Stoll's estimation, is not without merit.

The plate or stereotype establishments have sent out a likeness of the brave Lieutenant Henry B. Rumsey. The picture is engraved from a photograph by Barrows, of this city, and accompanying it is a compliment to Lieutenant Rumsey's heroism in the awful Buffalo hotel fire.

To-night the Philalathean society will give their first program of the spring term. This program will be unusually interesting in many respects. To those who have been witnessing the exercises we need not speak of their merit; to those who have not heard the exercises we say go and enjoy yourselves.

The Kendallville News says: "Miss Minnie Tumbleson, of Fort Wayne, canvassed the city last week in the interest of the Western Book association of Chicago.—Miss Nettie Brown, of Fort Wayne, was in the city Saturday. She has accepted a situation as superintendent of the laundry department at the Allen county asylum."

Mr. Isaac McCullough, of Rossville, Kan., arrived in the city last evening, much to the surprise of his friends and relatives. He has been in the west seventeen years, ten of which he was unable to leave the house. A few weeks ago a letter came saying that he was not expected to live. Imagine the surprise when the invalid arrived here yesterday apparently as well as ever.

General Lew Wallace has declined to serve on the soldiers' monument commission owing to literary engagements and press of private business. Hon. Hugh Dougherty, of Bluffton, chosen for one of the democratic commissioners, has also declined to serve owing to ill health. The vacancies will be filled at an early day, and Colonel Zollinger's name is again mentioned in connection with the commission.

Another pioneer and estimable lady is dead. Mrs. Margaret Carnrike breathed her last at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. E. W. Cook, last evening at 5 o'clock. She was born in Fairfield county, Ohio, in 1816, and removed to Fort Wayne in 1841. Her sister, Mrs. J. C. Bowser, and George Carnrike, her brother, reside in the city. Five children survive her, viz.: Mrs. Ernest W. Cook, wife of the cashier of the Wabash railway; Mrs. J. M. Hammett, Marysville, Kan.; John Carnrike, Blue Rapids, Kan.; George Carnrike, Russell, Kan., and W. S. Carnrike, Fort Worth, Texas. Her funeral occurs from the residence of Mr. E. W. Cook, No 124 Union street, as 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

The auditor of state has recently received various communications from county officers expressing the belief that the law, enacted by the last legislature, exempting building associations from taxation, was unconstitutional. He referred the question to the attorney general, and then Mr. Michener gave it as his opinion that it was the duty of officers of the state to enforce a statute, unless it appeared beyond any question to be unconstitutional, and to leave it to the courts to decide whether or not it was unconstitutional. County Attorney Spencer, of Indianapolis, has been active in raising the question, and he has filed with the attorney general a written agreement to prove that the law is unconstitutional.

Judge Cooley's final report as receiver of the Wabash was made to Judge Gresham at Chicago yesterday. It covers the period from Jan. 1 to April 4. The total receipts of the road were $1,791,945.37, disbursements $1,080,661.87, leaving a balance of $711,283.50 cash on hand. The operating expenses of the Wabash line east of the Mississippi do not amount to more than two-thirds of the receipts. Judge Gresham authorized the present receiver, Gen. McNulta, to pay $28,000 taxes due on the lines in Indiana. Mr. Henry Crawford asked the court for a special examiner to look into the accounts of the old receivers, Humphreys and Tutt, who are not yet discharged as to the eastern Wabash lines. The court postponed consideration of the matter.

Henry Golliver sues Daniel Buskirk for $300. J. R. Bittinger filed the complaint.

Henry Hoffman has sold to Peter Pierre lot 29, Farnan's addition, for $800; James Smith to Mary Ann Hugenard lot 4, College addition, for $375.

Hon. R. C. Bell has returned from Chicago where he was looking after the legal interests of the Nickel Plate road. Mr. Bell is regarded as one of the best corporation lawyers in the country.

The foot race arranged some weeks ago came off at Detroit last Saturday according to program and the Churubusco crowd got left pretty neatly. The Michigan man turned out to be Thos. Ryan, of Chelsea, Mich., who won the race easly, beating the California man nearly two feet, after giving him a start of a yard. The stakes were $2,000 and about $4,000 in side bets were made, making the thing decidely interesting to the Churubusco sports, some of whom live in Allen county.

The Fort Wayne Presbytery has been in session in the Presbyterian church at Lagrange this week, with Rev. D. S. Kennedy, of Fort Wayne, as moderator, and Rev. H. A. Sawyer, of Auburn, clerk. Those in attendance are Rev's H. L. Vannuys, Goshen; J. P. Moore, Hopewell; J. R. Lloyd, Fort Wayne; A. J. Reynolds, Albion; D. W. Moffatt, Fort Wayne; J. G. Lowrie, Elkhart; M. M. Lawson, Ossian; I. T. Hutt, Decatur; T. E. Hughes, of Lagrange, and a large number of deacons. Besides the usual rountine busines, Rev. John M. The Seven Cuticura Boys

These seven beautiful boys owe their beauty of skin, luxuriance of hair, purity of blood, and freedom from hereditary taint or humors to the celebrated Cuticura Remedies.

Thousands of children are born into the world every day with some eczematous affection, such as milk crust, scall head, scuff or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which make life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with Cuticura Soap, an exquisite skin beautifier, and a single application of Cuticura, the great skin cure, with a little Cuticura Resolvent, the new blood purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Your most valuable Cuticura Remedies have done my child so much good that I feel like saying this for the benefit of those who are troubled with skin disease. My little girl was troubled with eczema, and I tried several doctors and medicines, but did not do her any good until I used the Cuticura Remedies, which speedily cured her, for which I owe you many thanks and many nights of rest.
ANTON BOSSMIER, Edinburgh, Ind.

Sold everywhere. Price, Cuticura, 50c., Soap 25c.; Resolvent, $1. Prepared by the Potter Drug and Chemical Co., Boston, Mass.

BABY'S Skin and scalp preserved and beautified by Cuticura Medicated Soap.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old, was attacked with a virulent, malignant disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the Cuticura Remedies. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion, your valuable remedies saved his life, and today he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred. GEO. B. SMITH,
Att'y at law and ex-pros. att'y, Ashland, O.
Reference: J. G. Weist, druggist, Ashland, O.

One year ago the Cuticura and Soap cured a little girl in our house of the worst sore head we ever saw, and the Resolvent and Cuticura are now curing a young gentleman of a sore leg, while the physicians are trying to have it amputated. It will save his leg.
S. B. SMITH & BRO., Covington, Ky

YOU have no doubt found it difficult to find a satisfactory soap for office use where the consumption is considerable and expensive soaps cannot be afforded. "Cheap" soaps are used, but from their greasy, acrid and irritating character, are very unsatisfactory. No such experience can occur with the IVORY SOAP, for it is $99\frac{44}{100}$ pure, and no one is so poor but can afford "the IVORY." Send your office-boy for a cake and try it.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

A RECENT dispatch from New York says: Here is some curious post-mortem evidence for Beecher, though it is not of a nature to receive judicial consideration, since it consists simply of the opinion of Tilton's chief lawyer in the great scandal trial that the defendant was innocent. That counsel was William A. Beach, now dead. At the time of the Tilton suit he had lately removed to New York from Troy, where he had been for years a leader at the bar; but in the metropolis he was unknown to the general public, and was desirous of greater fame than his quiet but lucrative business as an attorney for several great railroads gave to him. He was gifted with singular eloquence, and he thought that he saw in this Beecher matter the opportunity of his life. He knew Tilton personally, and believed in the truth of his grievance. So he took the case with very small prospect of pecuniary recompense, but willing to exert himself for glory. The Chicago Times correspondent is now able to tell that, before the six months of the trial were over, Beach was convinced that Beecher was guiltless of adultery with Mrs. Tilton. The authorities for this statement are ex-Congressman Martin I. Townsend and Irving Browne. They say that Beach declared to them his firm belief in Beecher's goodness. Townsend is a Troy lawyer of eminence and the utmost probity. "Beach started in with a full faith that Tilton had a sound case," he says; "but the trial was not half over before he changed his mind. I relate this without assuming what the truth was, but simply to tell how Beach regarded it." Irving Browne was formerly of Troy, but now lives at Albany. He is a lawyer, a literary writer, and an old friend of the deceased Beach. He quotes Tilton's counsel as saying to him: "We were a pack of hounds trying to run a lion down. Beecher's own testimony convinced me that he was innocent of the charge which Tilton had made. That is not saying that Tilton did not believe his own accusations; on the contrary, he did; but we were all mistaken."

IN a paper entitled "The Handwriting of the Insane," recently read in Philadelphia, Mrs. Henry Hazlehurst said that the giving way of the mind in an educated person was often shown in bad spelling, blotting, frequent erasures, the absurd use of parentheses, italicization, and underscoring in excess. Insane pride and obstinacy take to capitals, and, it is said, make frequent use of the letter "P," which becomes perfectly enormous. Many of these indicia were to be found in the handwriting of ex-Sheriff Rowan, who recently became insane. In him, too, was noted another peculiarity—a tendency to commence at the right instead of the left hand side of the paper, this being carried so far that often he would not leave himself room on the paper to complete even his signature.

MR. W. H. HERNDON, the old law partner of President Lincoln, has in a forward state of preparation another "Life," which he will publish in the near future. This work will especially

A New Craze in Bric-a-Brac.

Imagine a perfect sphere of glass with the polish of the diamond, perfectly devoid of tint, so pellucid that one can look into its very depths without catching the slightest ray of color; in fact, it is a gigantic dewdrop, clear and wonderful in its absence of color, presenting, as I have said, an astonishing contrast to glass, which is well to remember, as such bogus balls are often offered for sale, but can be told immediately by comparing them with glass. Rock crystal balls will not be collected like stamps, birds' eggs or coins. A ball one inch in diameter brings $1, two inches $5, three inches in diameter $15 to $35, four inches $40 to to $75, five inches $125 to $150, six inches from $200 to $3,000, and from here they jump to astonishing prices, so that one can be as select in crystal balls as with diamonds.

The majority comes from Madagascar and Brazil, while the best known localities in Europe are Fredeberg, Salzberg, Zillerthal in the Tyrol and Hungary. Limited supplies come from Ceylon, and some has been found in this state, though not in large quantities. In the vicinity of Mont Blanc some fine specimens are found, and some years ago a peasant made a remarkable find at Galensteck, above the Trifengletscher. It was a granite cave, from which the discoverer took over 1,000 crystals, the finest weighing about 120 pounds. The largest was sent to this country, and is now in the collection of Mr. Clarence S. Bement, of Philadelphia. Another, known as "The Grandfather," is preserved at Berne, Switzerland. It weighs 276 pounds, while "The King" tips the scales at 225 pounds weight.—San Francisco Call.

The Story Teller of Tangier.

Of course the concourse of people attracts the professional amuser, as it would with us, and the people crowd around the snake charmers and conjurers and especially about the story tellers. The story teller, as he walks up and down a good deal and gesticulates much and violently, needs room, so the crowd groups itself on the side of the hill, making a natural theater, in concentric curves, of squatting figures. I have never seen such attention as one of these story tellers was given. His audience hung on his words. When he suggested a pleasing scene, the white teeth of the listeners all flashed out together; when he harrowed their feelings, there was a universal scowling and murmur; and when finally he made a joke, there was a spontaneous and delighted roar of laughter. Sometimes he would relapse into rude, at least rude sounding verse, when he would beat a tambourine, which served the double purpose of marking the rhythm of the chant and attracting new hearers. The culmination of the sport is on the birthday itself. Then thousands of people gather at the Soho or market place. This is an open space of some extent—the slope of the hill—at the lower end of which is the city wall.—Tangier Cor. Boston Transcript.

The Zoroastrian Religion.

Just here comes in the correction of a certain error that has often been made with regard to the Zoroastrian religion, that is treating it as a dualistic religion.

Nothing was further from Zoroaster's mind than to assume anything but one supreme being, one and indivisible. But that everlasting problem of all thinking minds, viz., the origin of evil and its incompatibility with God's goodness, holiness and justice, he attempted to solve by assuming two primeval causes which, though different, were united, and produced the world of the material things as well as that of the spirit. The one who produced the reality is called Vohn Mano, the good mind; the other, through whom the non-reality originated, is the Akem Mano, the naught mind. To the first belong all good, true and perfect things; to the second all that is delusive, bad, wicked. These two aboriginal moving causes of the universe are called twins. They are spread everywhere, in God as in men. It is only in later writings that these two are supposed to be opposed to each other, not within Ahuramazda, but without—to stand, in fact, in the relation of God and devil to each other.—Boston Herald.

No Two Hats Alike.

There is a peculiarity about ladies' head dressing which few men have discovered, notwithstanding their complaints with reference to high hats at the opera and their unjust and unwarranted assertions that their wives must have new bonnets to match those of the ladies in their set. That peculiarity is that no two hats worn by lovely women are alike. You may go to any public gathering, or watch the passing throng all day, and you will not be rewarded by seeing two hats that resemble each other, with a thousand to pick from. Is it intentional? I presume it is, upon the part of the milliner. It is only recently that I made this discovery, and I have yet to find the pair of bonnets or hats to match. There are hundreds of hats of like shape, to be sure, but the deft fingers of the milliner transform the original into an indescribable confusion of effect, which cannot be imitated or duplicated, to please the purchaser.—Globe-Democrat.

Superiority of Cast Iron Guns.

Experienced gun makers and artillerists have recently admitted that the steel rifle has not fulfilled the promises made for it. The Krupp guns, of which we hear so much, have never yet been subjected to such high pressures as have been applied to cast iron guns, and experience has shown it would not be safe to put them through such tests. Indeed, the cast iron smooth bore guns which have been converted into rifles by the insertion of wrought iron rifled cylinders have been fired under a pressure fully three times as great as it has been thought advisable to subject steel guns of the same caliber to.—Scientific American.
